

Jim Gregg's Shooting Schools

presents

An advanced course on point-shooting featuring Jim's instructional book

“The Gregg Method of Fire Control”

“To the men and women who enforce the law.

My reason for training law enforcement for the past 30 years is simply because the officer has the highest probability of weapon use.

Skillful point-shooting can be a very accurate method of shooting handguns and shotguns under conditions that exist most of the time in deadly confrontations.

I feel that traditional methods of firearms training are only a beginning in learning the ultimate use of handguns and shotguns under combat conditions.”

- Jim Gregg

This is a 2 day, 20 hour, MT POST certified course on “point-shooting” with both the handgun and shotgun for criminal justice combat shooting. All handgun training takes place within the 21-foot distance, the area that most law enforcement shooting situations take place. The first day of class generally runs from 0800 – 1700 hours with an hour for lunch. The second day generally runs from 0800 – 1700 hours with an hour for lunch and then convenes late in the evening for 4 hours of low light and no light shooting.

Mr. Gregg's theories and teachings come from over 40 years of experience and study in how our mind and eyes control our shooting and over 30 years of training Law Enforcement Officers. The student will first learn how their eye dominance affects what they see and how they see it. Then they will learn how a weapon properly “fits” the shooter so that it basically becomes an extension of the body and can be controlled by where they look. Students will have this re-enforced on the range by being expertly coached and given plenty of practice time.

Students will shoot both the shotgun and handgun under a variety of conditions to include shooting from various positions such as standing, kneeling, and lying on their backs in both daytime and nighttime conditions.

Most students will be able to shoot five rounds touching on a steel target within 250 rounds of practice and by doing so will be inducted into Jim Gregg's “Hole in One” club along with the hundreds of students that have done so in the past (each listed in his current book). Along with being listed in the club, each student who enters into the “Hole in One” club will receive a 5x7 photo and certificate of their achievement.

This course is a must for any criminal justice professional that may be engaged in a shooting incident in their careers.

Each student attending the course will receive 20 hours of outstanding instruction, a signed copy of “The Gregg Method of Fire Control” and a “Jim Gregg’s Shooting Schools” hat.

Students must bring the following:

- Duty gear
- Hand gun with a minimum of 2 magazines or speed loaders
- 12 gauge shotgun (will be supplied by the class for our P&P Officers)
- Gun cleaning supplies
- Personal safety gear including a ball cap, eye protection and hearing protection (muff type covers, custom earplugs, or a combination of muffs and plugs. Plain foam plugs will not be allowed by themselves)
- All weather gear (we will shoot rain or shine)

Minimum ammunition requirement:

- 500 rounds of handgun ammunition
- 50 rounds of shotgun “bird shot”
- 15 rounds of shotgun buck shot (duty ammo)
- 1 box of clay pigeons

Each 2-day class is limited to 11 students in order to maximize the learning experience. Registration is on a first come first filled basis.

Class dates and location are as follows: July 14&15 and July 17&18 in Anaconda, MT.

The cost of the course is $295.00 dollars per student. Payment may be made the day of class in order to assist your Department with the fiscal year budgeting, however if you cancel after June 15, your agency will be billed for the full cost of the course.

Directions to the classroom and range area will be provided upon registration.

Motels are available are: the Trade Winds Motel (1 406 563-3428), the Marcus Daly (1 406 563-3411) and the Vagabond Lodge (1 406 563-5251). Fairmont Hot Springs Resort is just 12 miles out of town (1 406 797 3241). Please note that there is softball tournament in Anaconda on July 8&9 so rooms may be tough to get and it may be quite noisy at the above motels. Maybe staying in Deer Lodge or Butte for those days would be a better choice.
